Natixis appoints Pierre Debray as Global Head of Asset and International Trade Finance

Natixis has appointed Pierre Debray as Global Head of Asset and International Trade Finance. He will report to the Corporate and Investment Bank's Debt and Finance Division and supervise project, shipping, aviation and structured export finance activities.

Pierre Debray has spent a large part of his career with Crédit Lyonnais, now Credit Agricole CIB, where he started out in the Treasury and Forex Department in New York in 1988. He was then appointed Head of Project Finance for the mines and metals sector in 1990, before becoming CFO of the Brazilian subsidiary Banco Frances e Brasileiro in 1994, and subsequently managing its sale to Banco Itaú. He was transferred to New York as Head of Credit Risks, before taking charge of the Central and Eastern Europe network in 2000, based in Paris. He moved back to New-York as Head of the Latin American platform in 2003.

Pierre Debray joined Natixis in 2010 as Deputy Head of Corporate and Institutional Business Relations within the Corporate and Investment Bank.

Pierre Debray, 46, graduated from Ecole Polytechnique and ENSAE, and holds a Master's degree in Engineering and Economic Systems from the University of Stanford.
