

FINANCIAL ANALYST

DUTIES

- The main task of the financial analyst consists of issuing buy or sell recommendations on corporate securities.
- As a specialist in a given business segment, the analyst follows the markets and company developments in the corresponding sector.
- He/she assigns an internal rating to companies and recommends investment strategies to clients and the equity market sales force.
- He/she manages the “morning meeting” in order to provide sales team members with information on the stocks.
- He/she may support sales personnel with clients and meet the finance departments of companies in his/her sector to refine the analyses.